You will need:

2 cups plain flour, 2 tablespoons vegetable or baby oil. 1/2 cup salt, 2 tablespoons cream of tartar, 1-1 1/2 cups warm water (add gradually until right consistency, few drops glycerine - makes dough stretchy, glitter

Instructions:

- 1/ Add flour, cream of tartar, salt and oil to bowl and mix
- 2/ Then gradually add water until mixture feels dough- like.
- 3/ Add few drops of glycerine and keep kneading dough until it feels stretchy and ready to play with
- 4/Add a few sprinkles of glitter to make your play dough look frosty and wintery - knead again to mix it all together.
- 5/ If you wish to make your winter dough look even colder you could add a little blue food colouring into the warm water. See the dough take on a bluish tinge...brrrrrr
- 6/ You can now play with your lovely wintery playdough - perhaps add cookie cutters, twigs, fir branches, cones or any other natural materials to encourage some great sensory play.

You may even wish to build your own dough snowman!
